Hans Martens is the Chief Executive of the European Policy Center (EPC). His specialties include European politics and economics, banking and finance. Mr. Martens has worked in the financial, labor market, communications, economic developments, competitiveness, structural reforms, and social models sectors.

He speaks English, French and Danish. He was born in Denmark, works in Belgium, lives in Spain. His experiences have taken him to all European countries, the former Soviet Union, Asia and the US. Mr. Martens is a contributor to numerous books and other publications. He is a frequent commentator in world media, including CNBC. Mr. Martens holds an MA Degree in Political Science.

The European Policy Centre (EPC) is an independent, not-for-profit think tank, committed to works at the ‘cutting edge’ of European and global policy-making. Members of the EPC comprise companies, professional and business federations, trade unions, diplomatic missions, regional and local bodies, as well as NGOs representing a broad range of civil society interests, foundations, international and religious organizations.

The EPC is organized under three flagship programs that respond to fast-moving developments on the European and global stage, including -

1. EU integration and citizenship
2. Europe’s political economy
3. Europe in the world