About Internships.com

Internships.com works with hundreds of university career centers and thousands of students globally to assist in all internship needs. Their philosophy, tools and services focus ONLY on internships.

They’ve spent the past six years studying internship patterns from the individual perspectives of Students, Educators, and Employers. They have constructed innovative software and services that allow everyone involved with internships, in any way, to interact with the process in their own respective fashion.

Their studies have also included labor economics, employment and demographic trends, globalization and technology within the sphere of work.

Benefits

- Their database is the largest in the world focused solely on internships (approx. 9,000 listings, 7,200 organizations/companies). It contains internships from companies large and small, local and international, and exposes students to opportunities they wouldn't find anywhere else.

- Their site allows students to maintain an internship account to track applications and, ultimately, their internship projects once they are employed.

- InternDigest, their newsletter, contains relevant and timely work-trend information to assist students in better grasping the world of work.
